

1 March 2013

Welcome to Museum Education

Course code: UH203F, B-level, 15 ECTS, (English) daytime: Spring 2013: April 2 – June XXXX

Course introduction:

Tuesday 2 April. 10.00 – 16.00 in F331 – Mandatory (Campus Frescati Södra Huset, Hus F, floor 3) Course start and introduction, schedule, lectures, literature etc. (Berit Ljung)

We will meet every week, this spring 2013, for seminars, lectures, study visits or group seminars, to discuss issues about museums as educational resources and spaces for learning. Cultural diversity, intercultural dialogue and international cooperation, etc. will also be focused in the course.

During the course we will use MONDO = Stockholm University's common collaboration and learning environment. See <https://mondo.su.se/portal>. Your course sight in Mondo is “Museum Education 2013” (which only you and I can reach and read.) This is the virtual place for you where most of the exchange and information in the course will take place - besides the scheduled mandatory seminars and lectures at Campus. The preliminary Schedule you can see in Time Edit. The schedule will be complemented with what we are going to do each time and what you are expected to read.

We recommend you to start to read before course start: Black, Graham (2012) Transforming Museums in the Twenty-first Century.

In Mondo you will, in some weeks, get more information in the “Student Guide”.

The course consists of two parts (2 x 7,5 ETC)

- The first task consists of a presentation of your own experience and perspectives on a museum in your home country.
- The second task is Visit six museums, includes six different aspects on six museums (Berit Ljung)
- The third task, during part 2, is a smaller Project work

There will soon be more information in Mondo about the course

Best regards and we looking forward to see you on the course start April 2.

Berit Ljung
