

The Department of Archaeology and Classical Studies

Policy for the Selection of Supervisors

Insofar as is possible, the department must offer students the opportunity to select their supervisors for degree projects at the first, second, and third-cycle level. Available supervisors are presented at the start of the course, and researchers/teachers who are not presented on this occasion should not be selected as supervisors. Furthermore, the subject of the degree project must be approved by the course coordinator.

The Head of Department