13. What important things did you get out of the course?

The main take-away for me was getting so much practice writing in english about law. But it was also interesting to compare swedish law to more than one "foreign" legal order, i.e. both UK and US law.

1. New perspective (common law) on case law. 2. relationship between society and law was highlighted 3. more comfortable writing in english now.

14. Describe the strength(s) of this course.

See above. Also, Laura is both knowledgeable and good at making the students feel comfortable.

It was a bit confusing at times when the pages of the digital version of the course book and the physical book did not match.

But it was not a big thing.

15. What could have been done better?

Possibly less seminars.

Nothing!

16. Any additional comments or feedback to course organizers?

One of the best courses of the entire programme!

Comments by the Course Director: Few changes have been made since the course was taught in VT 22 as to the materials covered, only updating as to the current state of the law. As we are going back to classroom teaching hopefully the administration will go smoother.

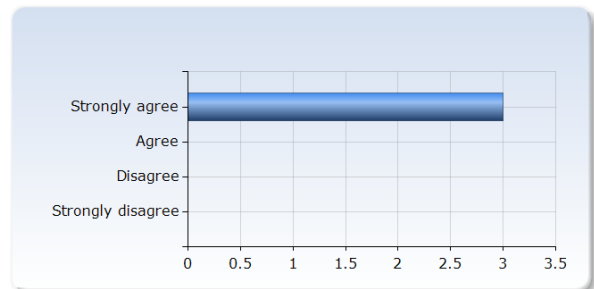

The strength of the course according to the three students responding was the feedback to the different assignments and feedback. The weakness of the course according to the students was on constructive alignment and the administration. Hopefully being in the classroom will facilitate these two components.
