Description of changes, and potential decisions already made to make such changes, since the course was last given.

A possible indication that has been given by students - also based on the assessment of the on-site course evaluation that was performed during the Summing Up lecture April 26 and where about 80% of active students participated, is to add literature seminars to facilitate students discussions of the course literature.

The strengths of the course according to the students.

(summary based on quantitative results, text responses from the survey and any other evaluation during the course)

The strengths of this course are - according to the students - guest lectures to add a practical perspective to auditing literature, and interesting seminars.

The weaknesses of the course according to the students

Despite good results in students' achievements on this course, the students find this course demanding.

The teachers' analysis of the implementation and results of the course.

This course has had a satisfactory achievement on the part of students, and the course format is sufficient.

Conclusions and suggestions for possible changes to the course and any decisions already made to develop the course.

We will consider adding lecture seminars to help students study the course literature. We will also consider changes to the course literature, it is possible that a couple of the articles could be replaced with ones better suited for the master level (perhaps a bit advanced at this point).
